CNMT 210 Fall 2015 Final Project - Contact Form - Starting Point
Checkpoint Date: 12/3/2015

The following are the requirements for the Contact form page. The page should be called contact.html and should be in the root of your hierarchy. The pages should build on the template that you created earlier; Therefore, those requirements are not repeated here.

Body
The body of the page should contain a web form that captures the following information, and indicate that name, e-mail address, and zip code are required fields.

Name
E-mail Address
Zip Code
Message (up to 1024 characters)
Choice of favorite pizza crust: Deep dish or thin crust
Choice of favorite pizza toppings, enabling the user to select more than one.

The user should be able to submit the form, and optionally, clear its contents.

Sidebar
The sidebar on the page should be styled so that it stands out prominently. The content of the sidebar should be alternate methods to contact you, laid out appropriately (not just a bunch of text in a paragraph).

Responsive View
Depending on how you create the form, you should ensure that there is no left/right scroll when viewed in viewports smaller than 769px. If there is, then create appropriate styling to utilize vertical scroll only in these viewports.
